DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election of invention Group I in Paper No. 8 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).
2. Claims 14-24 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 8.

Drawings

3. Figure 33 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.
4. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they include the following reference sign(s) not mentioned in the description: "223" in figure 14. A proposed drawing correction, corrected drawings, or amendment to the specification to add the reference sign(s) in the description, are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

5. Claim 8 is objected to because of the following informalities: Claim 8 recites "each stub ... are made different from one another", which implies multiple stubs but the independent claim only recites a stub (which is inconsistent). Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

7. Claims 1 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Brady et al. U. S. Patent Application Publication No. 2002/0003496.

The Brady et al. reference discloses in figure 3 an impedance matching method that includes: a pattern line 208 with a stub 216 that is cut by a laser (at 222, 223, 224, 225) to make the stub appear longer (see para. [0028] and [0029]).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

10. Claims 2 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brady et al.

The Brady et al. reference discloses a method of impedance matching and further discloses that computer algorithms may be used to determine the optimal tuning of the stub [0036] but does not disclose comparison with values in a database (claim 2) or using a Smith chart based on the phase of the impedance.(claim 12).

With respect to claim 2, it should be noted that computer algorithm tuning is conventional which requires measuring and comparing to a database.

Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have compared measured values with a database in a computer algorithm in the method of Brady et al. because, as the reference is silent on the exact type of computer algorithm, any art-recognized equivalent would have been usable therewith such as the well-known measure and compare computer algorithm.

With respect to claim 12, it would have been well known that impedance may be considered as polar (i.e. including a phase angle) and that use of a Smith chart is well known for impedance matching.

Allowable Subject Matter

11. Claims 3-11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

12. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Ponchak et al. shows a stub formed in a ground plane that is a "hook-type".
